

SATURDAY, 10 OCTOBER 2015 AT HALL 2, KUALA LUMPUR CONVENTION CENTRE (SEMINAR ROOM 1)

Time	Title	Description	Presenter
13:15 - 14:15	Studying Law in the UK	This presentation aims to inform what you study about Law and what career prospect Law could lead to, also the impact to society and some interesting cases/ research cases.	Dr. Richard Cornes, University of Essex
14:15 - 15:15	How to Choose Your Course	This presentation will give a guide for students to find the right course and university and will give one example of a strategy to help.	Heather Mckeeever, University of Reading
15:15 - 16:15	Career Success for Engineering students	This seminar will explore the career possibilities for Engineering students, and offer advice on how to make the best of your time at university to maximise your career prospects.	Dr John Chew, Department of Chemical Engineering, University of Bath
16:15 - 17:15	Studying Psychology in the UK	In this seminar we'll describe the different type of psychology degrees in the UK, and how applications are dealt with. We'll talk about what you can do with a psychology degree and what to look out for.	Dr Nigel Holt, Aberystwyth University

SATURDAY, 10 OCTOBER 2015 AT HALL 2, KUALA LUMPUR CONVENTION CENTRE (SEMINAR ROOM 2)

Time	Title	Description	Presenter
13:15 - 14:15	Why a Master's Course in Management is Essential for Your Career?	This seminar will discuss the essential skills and knowledge required to be highly employable and how an MSc Management Programme can prepare you to be successful in an increasingly competitive job market. When questioned today, most companies consider one of their biggest challenges is finding a suitable employee with combined management, leadership and technical skills. What does a company look for from an employee? What are the qualities and skills required of an effective workforce? What will enable you to be strategically positioned for better prospects within an organisation? An employee equipped with the right management skills is highly valued with a higher rate of immediate recruitment in the industry.	Dr Kogila Balakrishnan, University of Warwick
14:15 - 15:15	Studying Biosciences in the UK	Biosciences is a very diverse subject and you can study a range of degrees including Biochemistry, Human Biology and Biology Sciences. This talk will discuss the various Bioscience degree you can study at undergraduate and postgraduate level, how they are taught and the careers they can lead to.	Dr Steve Minchin, University of Birmingham
15:15 - 16:15	Studying Business and Economics in the UK	Universities offer a wide range of degrees in areas such as Management, Accounting, Economics and Finance. Whether you are applying for an undergraduate or postgraduate degree, choosing the right programme is crucial. This seminar will help you decide which subject area and which university would be best for you and your future career.	Dr Toby Kendal, University of Birmingham
16:15 - 17:15	Actuarial Science: Making Financial Sense of the Future	The lecture will explain what the job of an actuary involves and will give examples of day-to-day tasks. It will describe the skills required from those interested in pursuing such a career, talk about the education strategy and focus on the university route into the profession, with particular mention of accreditation and exemptions from professional examinations.	Gavin Gibson, Heriot-Watt University

SUNDAY, 11 OCTOBER 2015 AT HALL 2, KUALA LUMPUR CONVENTION CENTRE (SEMINAR ROOM 1)

Time	Title	Description	Presenter
13:15 - 14:15	Becoming an Actuary	An overview of the profession of actuaries, what they do and why they are important. This talk will then go on to lay out the options available to you in becoming an actuary by exploring the courses on offer as well as information on exemptions and career options.	Dr Susan Matthews, University of East Anglia
14:15 - 15:15	How to Write a Great Personal Statement	During this seminar, Sian Keepin from Cardiff University will talk you through writing a personal statement. Although this will focus on undergraduates, much of the content is also suitable for postgraduates and parents too. The aim of the talk is that students will leave feeling empowered and capable of writing about themselves in a confident and interesting way.	Sian Keepin, Cardiff University
15:15 - 16:15	Psychology & Consumer Psychology in the UK – The Science of Shopping	This talk will outline the major areas of Psychology Research & Teaching in the UK and focus in particular on growth areas in Psychology. In particular it will look at teaching and research in Consumer Psychology, an area which is getting increasing attention from global companies as the competition to attract consumers to their product intensifies and as consumers become more discerning and have more purchasing options than ever before.	Dr Tracey Lloyd & Richard Wigzell, Bangor University
16:15 - 17:15	The Route to Becoming a Barrister	BPP University will introduce you to the Bar Professional Training Course and the requirements you need to get onto the course.	Lauren Muller, BPP University

SUNDAY, 11 OCTOBER 2015 AT HALL 2, KUALA LUMPUR CONVENTION CENTRE (SEMINAR ROOM 2)

Time	Title	Description	Presenter
13:15 - 14:15	How to Prepare for Employment in the UK? Transferable Skills, Academic Course and Employment Services	A brief description, of what students can do whilst studying on the programme which will help them to learn transferable skills which allowing them to prepare for employment in the UK.	Karan Mehra, University of West London
14:15 - 15:15	Part-time vs. Full-time MBA	Differences and the pros & cons of part time and full-time MBA that candidates should know before embarking into one.	Mr Soon Thiam Lam (CEO, CDC Management Development Sdn Bhd), University of Strathclyde
15:15 - 16:15	Postgraduate Study in the UK	This presentation will focus on the types of programmes available at postgraduate level in the UK and we will look at how to choose the best programme for your needs to enhance your career prospects.	Annie Brunt, Lancaster University
16:15 - 17:15	How to get into Top UK Universities	Entry into the very best universities is becoming increasingly competitive. Dr Julian Davies, the Principal of a leading UK sixth form college, explains how students can be best prepared for their application to such universities. The seminar will include academic choices and how to make the best UCAS application, and how to succeed in university admissions interviews.	Dr Julian Davies, Abbey DLD Group of Colleges