Premier Skills uses football to develop a brighter future for young people around the world, drawing upon the global appeal of the Premier League and its expertise in delivering community programmes in the UK, alongside the British Council's global network and track record of delivery.

Since 2009 till 2016 Premier Skills Malaysia has been training community coaches throughout the country extending its reach by focusing on marginalised groups such as woman and rural communities. To date over 200 community coaches and referees have been trained under this programme.

To further its impact the Premier Skills Legacy programme focuses on an overarching theme of inclusivity, concentrating on women and girls and persons with disability. Identifying these two target areas is in line with Premier Skills' goal to promote football for all.

The programme is a two-phase learning journey to equip community coaches with the necessary skills and knowledge to run Community Football Projects.

The first phase involves training in Introduction to Premier Skills, an introductory four day, face-to-face training course on elements of community coaching conducted by Premier Skills Coach Educators.

The second phase involves training in Active Citizens, a programme which promotes community-led social development. It motivates members of communities to take responsibility for their social needs and gives them the knowledge, skills and experience to address them. This is a compulsory training workshop to equip community coaches with the methodology and tools to establish community football projects that address social concerns.

We identified SportsCARE as a partner to collaborate for the first phase of the programme through the involvement of their coach, Mr Kelvin Chee who is one of our Premier Skills Coach Educators. Exhibiting strong commitment and involvement with the community, SportsCARE highlights the positive impact that sports can have on children. Through Premier Skills Legacy Programme, we hope to create inclusivity in sports at the same time nurture friendship, teamwork and understanding between their peers.

We hope through this partnership we will also be able to tap into the SportsCARE's network of community coaches and help them enhance their skills to create more impact in the community.

Yours truly,

Eisyazman
